

Preface xii
 Picture Credits xv

Part One

Introduction to Film Analysis 1

1 Introduction 3

Cinema: A Confluence of Artistry, Industry, and Technology 4

How This Book Is Organized 6

Technical Tips 8

2 An Approach to Film Analysis 9

Understanding Audience Expectations 10

Expectations and Modes of Organization 11

Expectations about Genres, Stars, and Directors 13

The Orchestration of Detail 15

Motifs 15

Parallels 16

Details and Structure 19

Parallels in Openings and Closings 19

Structure and Turning Points 19

Repetition and Non-chronological Structure 20

Creating Meaning Through the World Beyond Film 21

Historical Events and Cultural Attitudes 21

Stars as References 22

Public Figures and Celebrities as References 23

Intertextual References 23

Avant-garde and Documentary References 25

Meaningful References with Objects 25

The Goal of Film Analysis: Articulating Meaning 26

The Importance of Developing Interpretive Claims 30

Summary 30

Film Analysis: Reading Significant Details 31

Historical References in Devil in a Blue Dress 31

3 Writing About Film 33

Getting Started 34

Keeping a Film Journal 34

Formulating a Thesis 35

Contents

Four Types of Writing About Film	35
The Scene Analysis Paper	35
“The Divided Human Spirit in Fritz Lang’s The Big Heat ”	36
The Film Analysis	39
The Anxieties of Modernity in Steamboat Bill Jr.	39
The Research Paper	43
The Evolution of an Idea: The Changing Hollywood Aesthetic in The Conversation and Enemy of the State	45
Works Cited (in the research paper)	51
Conducting Archival Research	52
The Popular Review	53

Part Two

Film Analysis 59

4 Narrative Form 61

Defining Narrative	62
Framing the Fictional World: Diegetic and Non-Diegetic Elements	63
Within the Diegesis: Selecting and Organizing Events	65
Narrative Structure	68
Techniques in Practice: Narrative Structure in Stagecoach	70
Alternatives to Conventional Narrative Structure	72
Variations on Narrative Conventions: Beyond Structure	75
Perspective and Meaning	76
Character Subjectivity	79
Techniques in Practice: Noticing Shifts in Perspective	81
Summary	83
Film Analysis: Analyzing Narrative Structure	84
The Narrative Complexity of Rashomon	84

5 Mise en Scène 87

Setting	89
Describing Setting: Visual and Spatial Attributes	91
The Functions of Setting	92
Techniques in Practice: Same Film, Different Settings	93
Techniques in Practice: Same Setting, Different Film	94
The Human Figure	97
Casting	97
Acting Style	98
Acting Brechtian: Distancing the Audience	99
Actors’ Bodies: Figure Placement	100
Techniques in Practice: Figure Placement in Citizen Kane	100
Actors’ Bodies: Costumes and Props	102
Actors’ Bodies: Makeup	104
Techniques in Practice: Physicality in Raging Bull and Ali	106
Lighting	107

Composition	112
Balance and Symmetry	112
Lines and Diagonals	113
Framing	115
Foreground and Background	116
Light and Dark	116
Color	116
Two Approaches to Mise en Scène	119
The Frame in Two Dimensions: Mise en Scène in German Expressionism	119
Combining Mise en Scène and Camerawork: The Frame in Three Dimensions in French Poetic Realism	121
Summary	124
Film Analysis: The Functions of Space	124
Spatial Oppositions in Thelma and Louise	124

6 Cinematography 129

Camerawork: The Camera in Time and Space	134
Creating Meaning in Time: The Shot	134
Altering Time: Slow and Fast Motion	137
The Camera and Space: Height, Angle, and Shot Distance	139
Camera Height	140
Camera Angle	140
Camera Distance	143
Camera Movement: Exploring Space	146
Horizontal and Vertical Movement	146
Movement in Three Dimensions	147
Techniques in Practice: Patterns of Camera Placement and Movement	150
Lenses and Filters: The Frame in Depth	151
The Visual Characteristics of Lenses: Depth of Field and Focal Length	152
The Zoom Lens	155
Combining Camera Movement and Lens Movement	156
Through the Lens: Filters and Diffusers	157
Techniques in Practice: Lenses and the Creation of Space	159
Film Stock	164
Characteristics of Film Stock	164
Light and Exposure	165
Film Stock and Color	166
Wide Film and Widescreen Formats	170
Processing Film Stock	171
Special Visual Effects	173
Manipulating the Image on the Set	174
Creating Scene Transitions, Titles, and Credits: The Optical Printer	177
Optical and Digital Compositing: Assembling the Elements of the Shot	178
Computer-Generated Images	179
Adding and Subtracting Frames	180
Digital Cinema: Post-Production	180
Digital Cinematography and Film Style	182

Summary	183
Film Analysis: Cinematography in Documentary Films	184
Cinematography in Two Documentaries	184
7 Editing	191
The Attributes of Editing: Creating Meaning Through Collage, Tempo, and Timing	193
Joining Images: A Collage of Graphic Qualities	193
Tempo	196
Shot Length	196
Shot Transitions	197
Adjusting the Timing of Shot Transitions	199
Techniques in Practice: Using Contrasting Imagery and Timing to Romanticize the Outlaws in Bonnie and Clyde	201
Story-Centered Editing and the Construction of Meaning	203
Editing and Time	203
Condensing and Expanding Time	203
Suggesting the Simultaneity of Events	205
Arranging the Order of Events	206
Editing and Space	207
Shot/Reverse Shot	208
Eyeline Match	210
Cutting to Emphasize Group Dynamics	211
Cutaways	212
Beyond Narrative: Creating Meaning Outside the Story	212
Continuity Editing: Conventional Patterns and "Bending the Rules"	213
Continuity and Space	213
Continuity and Chronology	215
"Breaking the Rules": The French New Wave and its Influence	217
Associational Editing: Editing and Metaphor	221
Soviet Montage	221
Techniques in Practice: Soviet Montage Aesthetics in The Godfather	226
Summary	228
Film Analysis: Classical Editing	228
Editing in Notorious	229
8 Sound	233
Film Sound: A Brief History	234
Critical Debates over Film Sound	236
Freeing Sound from Image	239
The Relationship Between Sound and Image	241
Emphasizing the Contrast Between Onscreen and Offscreen Space	242
Emphasizing the Difference Between Objective Images and Subjective Sounds	242
Emphasizing the Difference Between Diegetic Details and Non-diegetic Sound	243
Emphasizing the Difference Between Image Time and Sound Time	244

Emphasizing Differences in Image Mood and Sound Mood	245
Three Components of Film Sound	245
Dialogue	246
Text and Subtext	246
Volume	247
Pitch	248
Speech Characteristics	248
Acoustic Qualities	250
Addressing the Audience: the Voice-Over	252
Sound Effects	253
Functions of Sound Effects	254
Characteristics of Sound Effects	256
Techniques in Practice: Sound Effects and the Construction of Class in Days of Heaven	259
Music	260
Functions of Film Music	261
Five Characteristics of Film Music	264
Techniques in Practice: Bernard Herrmann's Score and Travis Bickle's Troubled Masculinity in Taxi Driver	271
Summary	273
Film Analysis: Sound and Language	274
Language, Nationality, and Class in The Grand Illusion	275
9 Alternatives to Narrative Fiction Film: Documentary and Avant-garde Films	279
Three Modes of Filmmaking: A Comparison	280
Documentary Film: "The Creative Treatment of Actuality"	283
Narrative Documentaries	285
Documentary Form	286
Voice of Authority	287
Talking Heads and Director-Participant	287
Direct Cinema	289
Self-reflexive Documentary	290
The Mockumentary	291
Ethics and Ethnography	291
Avant-garde Film	293
Surrealist Cinema	294
Abstract Film	296
Techniques in Practice: Interpreting Abstract Films	297
The City Symphony	298
Structuralist Film	301
The Compilation Film	301
Conducting Research on Documentary and Avant-garde Films: Locating Sources	302
Summary	303
Film Analysis: Interpreting Avant-garde Films	304
Analyzing Meshes of the Afternoon	304

Part Three

Cinema and Culture 308

10 Social Context and Film Style 311

Hollywood's Industrial Context: The Studio System as Dream Factory 312

Classical Style 312

Economic Practice and Hollywood Convention 314

Censorship and Hollywood Convention 315

American Ideology and Entertainment 317

Reaffirming or Resisting Dominant Ideology 318

International Art Cinema 321

The Ideology of "Art" 323

Italian Neorealism 325

Third Cinema 327

11 Film and Ideology 331

Ideology and Film Analysis 333

Ideology and Film Spectatorship 335

Anti-Communist Witch Hunts and Hollywood Cinema 337

Racial Ideology and American Cinema 339

Gender and Cinema 343

Sexuality and Cinema 346

Disability and Cinema 348

12 Film Stardom as a Cultural Phenomenon 355

Stars and the Movie Industry 358

The Dynamics of Performance 359

The Star Persona 361

Stardom and Ideology 366

Stars and Subcultures 368

Fan Culture 371

13 Genre 373

What Makes a Genre? 374

Major American Genres 379

The Western 379

Film Noir and the Hard-boiled Detective Film 382

The Action Film 383

The Science Fiction Film 386

The Musical 389

Genre, Film Production, and Audiences 391

Genre Film and Aesthetic Appeal: Cliché or Strategic Repetition? 392

Genre and the Status Quo 393

Genres as Culturally Responsive Artifacts 393

Genre and Film Authorship 394

14 Film Authorship 397

The Idea of the Auteur: From Cahiers du Cinéma to the Sarris-Kael Debate 398

Auteur as Marketing Strategy: Old and New Hollywood 401

Studio-era Auteurs: Welles and Hitchcock 402

Blockbuster Auteurs: Spielberg and Lucas 405

Using the Auteur Approach to Interpret and Evaluate Films 406

Readings in Auteur Criticism 407

Ousmane Sembene 407

Kathryn Bigelow 408

Ang Lee 409

Wong Kar Wai 411

Jafar Panahi 412

15 Cinema as Industry: Economics and Technology 415

The Changing Structure of the Film Industry 416

From Oligopolies to Conglomerates 416

Horizontal Integration and Synergy 418

Globalization 418

Industry Labor Practices 419

Outsourcing 419

Runaway Productions 420

Creative Centralization 420

Films as Products 421

The Blockbuster 421

The High Concept Film 422

Saturation Marketing 422

Independent Film Culture 423

Two Independent Institutions: Sundance and Miramax 424

Film and the New Technology 425

The Rise of the DVD 426

Film and Digital Technologies 427

Glossary 432

Bibliography 439

Index 444