

I

In the beginning and looking forward

Packaging in the post-modern era 11
 Social and economic changes 12
 Technological advances 23
 Retailing 27
 Changes in design practice 34

II

Understanding the target audience

Defining market sectors 39
 Identifying aspirations 48
 Techniques for researching target audiences 51
 Preparing mood boards that work 55

III

The packaging designer's toolbox

Materials 62
 Surface decoration 74
 Colour 79
 Typography 85
 Photography and illustration 88

IV

Creating design concepts

Understanding the brief 95
 Making research relevant 97
 Sources of inspiration 104
 Ways of working—concept generation 110
 Presenting concepts 117

V

Design development

Selecting and discarding design candidates 121
 Developing concepts 123
 Mock-ups and models 128
 Presenting recommended designs 135

VI

Working with brands

What is a brand? 143
 Brand types and brand values 152
 Branding through shape and sound 154
 Working with logos 156
 Creating brands, sub-brands and brand extensions 161

VII

Packaging obligations and responsibilities

Environmental impact—fact and fiction 169
 Issues of age, gender, sexuality and ethnicity 181
 Corporate responsibility 187

VIII

Finding your role

The future of packaging design 197
 Design consultancies 202
 Packaging manufacturing 207
 Brand owners 209
 Down the line... 212

Glossary 216
 Bibliography 218
 Sources of inspiration 220
 Index 221
 Picture credits and acknowledgements 224